WELCOME BACK

Harrison Barrett, PhD

Regents Professor of Medical Imaging, Optical Sciences and Mathematics

We are thrilled to announce that as of June 1, 2020, Dr. Harrison Barrett has returned to Medical Imaging. Dr. Barrett has agreed to come back on a part-time basis to collaborate with Dr. Luca Caucci. The pair will work together on the NIH grant titled "Emission Computed Tomography and Parallel Computing." Dr. Barrett was the grant PI from 1990 until his retirement from the University of Arizona in May, 2019.

Please join us in welcoming Dr. Barrett back to the UArizona and Department of Medical Imaging!

AI shows promise for breast cancer screening
Ette D. Pisano
Could artificial intelligence improve the accuracy of screening for breast cancer? A comparison of the diagnostic performance of expert physicians and computers suggests so, but the clinical implications are as yet uncertain. See p.89

Artificial intelligence software improves accuracy, doubles speed in evaluating CT scans of advanced cancer

BANNER COVID-19 UPDATE

Masking Update: Banner Health is asking personnel to wear their own mask as they walk to and enter Banner health care and corporate facilities.

Beginning June 24, donated fabric masks will replace the procedure mask supply at designated hospital entrances. Please note that fabric masks should be laundered by personnel between shifts.

Procedure masks will still be available within various hospital departments as needed.
